COURTHOUSE, CANTON, O., Dec. 13.—Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher of the Canton Daily News, was killed because of his editorial campaign against bootleggers, and Pat E. McDermott was one of those who conspired against him, declared Prosecutor C. B. McClintock in outlining his case to the alleged "key man's" jury at the opening of McDermott's trial for the murder of Mellett today. McClintock used less than 20 minutes in making his initial statement.

McClintock spoke slowly and without oratorical gestures.

"Some time prior to the 16th of July Patrick E. McDermott met Steve Kascholk," McClintock said. "Pat told him he had a good friend in Massillon by the name of Ben Rudner. They went to Massillon and stayed there two days, McClintock continued.

Ormiston Not Under Arrest

Awaits Somewhat Doubtful Visit Of Los Angeles District Attorney

CHICAGO POLICE TAKE NO ACTION

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Kenneth G. Ormiston marked time today as he awaited the somewhat doubtful visit here of District Attorney Asa Keyes of Los Angeles to interview him in connection with the Aimee Semple McPherson case.

The former Angelus Temple radio announcer, whose five month's "retirement from public view" ended last Wednesday when he was discovered living under an assumed name in Harrisburgh, Pa., came to Chicago voluntarily to consult his attorney, Edward H. S. Martin, and "to await developments."

Although under indictment in California, charged with subornation of perjury and conspiracy to defeat justice, in connection with the mysterious disappearance last May of Aimee Semple McPherson, Ormiston has not been arrested.

Chicago authorities do not intend to arrest him, it is said, until a fugitive warrant is received. He expresses himself entirely willing to surrender to anyone with such a warrant. But Ormiston will fight to the last ditch, he says, any attempt to extradite him to California.

"I have committed no crime," he said today. "Consequently, I have nothing to fear. And while on the subject of crime, since when is it a crime for any woman to defend her good name in California?"

"I see they have found my automobile. Well that is rather rapid work. It took them just as long to find that as it did to find me. And they found I left it six months ago, in a public garage.

"As for the red hair reported to be found in the car, my father was there when the car was examined. He assured me the red hair did not originate in the car, but probably was 'planted' there."

Police Chief At Wilmerding Is Shot To Death

Harry Davenport, Chief Of Police At Westinghouse Airbrake Plant, Is Slain

HAD SERVED FOR 36-YEAR PERIOD

Officers Believe Assassination Is Result Of Recent Bootleg Raids

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 13.—Met by a volley of gunshots as he left his post of chief of police for the Westinghouse Airbrake Company at Wilmerding, a suburb, Harry Davenport, 58, was shot to death early today.

His assailants fired one shot from an automobile, police said, and as the man lay writhing on the sidewalk, leaped upon him and beat him, then fired another charge of shot into his body. Passersby who rushed to his aid found him dying, and saw the assassins' car disappear.

Policeman For 36 Years

Davenport had been a Westinghouse policeman for 36 years, and a constable of Wilmerding Borough for nearly 25 years. Police believe that enemies he had made by a series of recent raids on bootlegging establishments conspired to take his life.

Pittsburgh and county police, notified of the murder, immediately threw a dragnet around questionable resorts in the borough, and ordered every road watched.

In checking Davenport's movements before the attack, police pieced together what they believe is an accurate account of the assassination. It was believed that Davenport left his post at the Westinghouse plant at midnight, and drove his car to the company's garage near his home. He then started home, and had gone but a few paces when an automobile drew up alongside the curb, and one of the occupants fired point blank with a shotgun. As the officer fell, his assailants leaped from the car, and beat him unmercifully.

Leaving the victim lying unconcious on the pavement, they fired a second charge of shot into the prostrate body, and sped away.

Indications that police suspected hired Pittsburgh gunmen were seen in their action in ordering a round up of police characters in "The Strip", of Pittsburgh's bandlands.

Take Three Into Custody.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—Acting shortly after Harry Davenport, 58, chief of police for the Westinghouse Airbrake company at Wilmerding, a suburb, was shot to death early today on his way home, county detectives took two prominent Wilmerding merchants and the steward of a political club into sustody for questioning.

John Bolte, 35, and Guy Bolte, 28, brothers, and Joseph Mandelia were lodged in county jail here on an open charge.

Detectives refused to divulge information upon which they acted in arresting the three men, all of whom are believed to wield strong political influence in Wilmerding borough.

It was indicated, however, that police are working on a theory that Davenport was shot by a band of hired assassins as the climax to a series of disturbances in the borough recently.

According to the district attorney's office there have been no new developments in the murder, since the inquiry immediately after the crime was committed.

BLAME RIVAL BOOTLEG GANGS

Order Mobilization Of Deputy Forces To Search For Slayers

(International News Service)

BENTON, Ill., Dec. 13.—Two counties in Southern Illinois bristled with armament today following the latest outbreak of gang warfare which claimed Joe Adams, mayor of West City, as a victim.

Adams was shot to death by two gunmen who called him to the door of his home on the pretext of delivering a letter. The killers, unidentified, then fled to a waiting automobile and escaped.

In Franklin County

The shooting occurred in Franklin county, adjoining "Bloody" Williamson, the battle-ground of bitter feuds that have flared forth with varying degrees of destructiveness during the past five years.

The killing of Adams, as well as seven killings, is attributed by authorities to the feud between the Birger and Shelton factions, rival bootleg gangs.

Second Gang Victim

Adams was said to have been aligned with the Shelton crowd. He was a second mayor to fall victim in the gang war. Jeff Stone, mayor of Colp, Ill., in Williamson county, was assassinated on Nov. 7 last, when he walked into a machine gun ambuscade.

The gangster feud has been featured by employment of all modern methods of warfare, including poison gas, machine guns and even an airplane. One gang used a plane recently to bomb an otherwise impregnable stronghold of its rival.

State's Attorney Roy C. Martin has ordered mobilization of a force of deputies which he hopes will be able to round up the slayers of Adams. He has asked Oren Coleman, newly elected sheriff of Williamson county to cooperate with him.

Rev. Pearson Speaks Of Hall-Mills Case

Trinity Episcopal Rector Speaks Of Sensational Case Sunday Night

Was Acquainted With Murdered Pastor — Draws Some Lessons

A congregation which filled Trinity Episcopal church last night heard Rev. Philip C. Pearson, the rector, discuss the Hall-Mills case. Among other things Rev. Pearson told of his personal contact with Rev. Hall previous to his marriage and while a student in the General Theological Seminary in New York city, also in Columbia University.

Rev. Pearson took occasion to decry the marriages in which wealth may play an important role on one side, also to tell of the things that enter into the life of a minister and make it hard for him, especially with regard to a certain type of woman, which he states exists in every congregation. He said that because there are cases of the fall of ministers, that the entire profession should not be held responsible.

Remembers Dr. Hall.

He said among other things: "It is sad indeed that the representative of any branch of our common Christianity should fall because all must suffer. I would that sin in the ministry might be confined to the Episcopal church. It would be easier for us to put our fingers on the wrong and try and effect a cure. Sin is the thing that takes joy out of life.

"I remember Rev. Hall as a young man. He was liked and loved by all. I can see him playing with children, and there was everything about him to indicate only the highest desire to contribute something to child life.

"He married a woman reputed to be wealthy. The love of money is the root of all kinds of evil. You cannot serve God and Mammon. The

Texas Girl Out On Bail After Arrest On Charge Of Bank Robbery

RECOVER MONEY REPORTED TAKEN

Girl Is Held On Charge Of Robbery With Firearms For Court

(International News Service)

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 13.—With a declaration of innocence on her lips, Miss Rebecca Bradley, 22, stenographer in the office of Dan Moody, Attorney General and Governor-elect, was to be arraigned in district court here today on a charge of robbery with firearms.

She was arrested here Saturday night after she held up two bank employes and escaped with $1,000 from the Farmers National Bank at Buda, south of here.

Recover Loot

Following the arrest of Miss Bradley, who soon was to receive her Masters degree from the University of Texas here, all but $90 of the loot was recovered, mailed to Miss Bradley at the University postoffice according to officers.

"It's a mistake they have made; it wasn't me," Miss Bradley declared this morning. It was her only statement to reporters in connection with the robbery.

Sheriff George Allen, of Hays county, who took the girl to San Marcos, county, seat, before she was allowed $5,000 bond, declared the girl remarked to him:

"I do not have as much to live down as those saps in the bank who let a mere girl put that over on them."

Miss Bradley would say very little to reporters, under instructions from her attorney. She remarked, however, she was treated "very nicely" while she was in custody here and at San Marcos Saturday night and Sunday morning.

"Sheriff Allen was very kind to me," she said. "When they finally let me go, he said he hated to see me leave.

"The only thing that made me mad was the fact they wouldn't let me call my mother after they arrested me."

Police Capture Local Pair For Recent Thefts

Police Say Pair Confess To Several Auto Thefts In City Recently

Police were successful Saturday night in unraveling a hold-up case occurring in the North Hill district and at the same time solving the mysterious disappearance in recent weeks of various Chevrolet cars stolen at various points and found abandoned at various other points, principally in the South Side district.

Incidentally, in solving the mystery, the police arrested two young men, Edgar Martin, R. D. No. 1, and Edward Kline, Jackson avenue, who after considerable grilling admitted that they were responsible for the numerous thefts of Chevrolet cars recently, police say.

These young men have a previous record of stealing the same type of cars, having been arrested April 15, 1924, for the theft of four Chevrolet cars, police say. Martin is 19 years of age and Kline 18 years of age.

Police received a report Saturday evening that the Chevrolet coach of James Osborne of near New Wilmington, bearing Pennsylvania license 393-645, had been stolen from the Falls street district, the scene of numerous recent thefts.

Woman Is Robbed

It was some time later the same evening when they received a call to the effect that Mrs. Harry Pence of Fairmont avenue and Albert street had been the victim of a hold-up by a man and woman. She was able to give a description of the persons taking her handbag and also the license number of the car in which they drove away. The police on looking up the number found that it was the license on the Osborne car, reported stolen earlier in the evening.

Mrs. Pence stated that she had gotten off a street car at Fairmont avenue and started to walk west to her home. A car passed her. Then a man and woman walked toward her and as they passed grabbed her handbag from her arm and ran and got into the automobile and drove away.

All the city officers were notified and soon the search was on in every direction. Officers Golis and Thomas came in contact with the car in the South Side district. They chased it up the Moravia street hill, but it escaped, going toward the East Side. About the same time Officer Fleeger reported that a car had hit another car on the Public Square, but had gotten away before he could reach the scene. It was found that the number on the car getting away was again that of the stolen Osborne car.

Especially at Christmas time when women folks are out, when getting through the crowded aisles is like a boxing bout. POLICE CAPTURE LOCAL PAIR FOR RECENT THEFTS

Shortly after this Officers Criswell and Letera were searching for the car on South Jefferson street when they came upon it as it was leaving the Pennzoil gasoline station, where a new supply of gasoline had been secured.

Seven Men in Car

They succeeded in stopping it. There were seven young men in it. They were all taken into custody and locked up. They gave the names of Edgar Martin, R. D. No. 1, who was driving the car; Edward Kline, Jackson avenue; Leo Wilinski, 221 Vogtly street, N. S., Pittsburgh; Julius Barto, South New Castle Borough; John Yatsko, 1601 South Jefferson street; Julius Brudo, 1804 South Jefferson street, and William Bagshaw, 721 City Line street.

They claimed when taken to the police station that they had been at Ike Simon's poolroom on Long avenue when they were asked to take a ride and that they had been riding about 15 minutes when arrested.

The police were not satisfied with the story and after a severe grilling Martin came across and stated that he and Kline had taken the car earlier in the evening. They drove up Highland avenue, he stated, according to the police, and a street car stopped at Fairmont avenue. Mrs. Pence got off the car and started to walk toward Albert street.

They drove over to Albert street and turned around. Kline got out, he claimed, and walked over and grabbed the handbag of Mrs. Pence and then ran to the car and drove away. He denied that there was a woman with them, but both he and Kline did say that there was a woman walking on the sidewalk in the opposite direction from Mrs. Pence at the time and was near the scene when the handbag was taken.

Threw Handbag Away

They then drove over to Neshannock avenue, according to Martin, extracted the money from the handbag and threw it in some weeds at the side of the road, where it was found later by officers, whom Martin guided to the spot. Kline later admitted the story as told by Martin was true, with the exception that he claimed that there was but $4 in the handbag instead of a greater amount claimed by Mrs. Pence.

According to the statements of both Martin and Kline, the police say, they went to Simon's poolroom, where they spent some of the money. They then asked the other five young men to take a ride in the car. As they exonerated the other five of all blame in the hold-up and theft of the car, they were then turned loose.

They also admitted to the theft of at least six Chevrolet cars that have been stolen here recently. There are possibly others, the police state. The list includes the car of Dan Davis, found Friday night on Williams street by local officers. The license plates, 933-133, on this car, they state, were stolen from the car of Ed. Kelley, 936 Maryland avenue.

The six other thefts admitted were the cars of Ralph Fenton, R. D. No. 4; Carl Snyder, R. D. No. 9; A. W. Lago, Bessemer; McCoy Motor Company, Harold Dangerfield and Albert Miller, Slippery Rock. They also admitted to the wreck on the Public Square Saturday evening.

The previous occasion on which both these young men were involved in the theft of Chevrolet cars, the police state, was on April 15, 1924. They had purloined four cars at that time, according to police records. Martin was but 16 years of age at that time.

Since their arrest Saturday night both young men have been photographed and finger prints taken by Officer D. T. Nelson.

Since the arrest of Martin and Kline it has developed that the overcoat and handbag reported as having been stolen from the Baltimore and Ohio station in the seventh ward on Saturday night were also taken by them. They claim to have thrown away the coat and handbag at Reynolds street and South Mill street.

As a result they this morning faced three different serious charges made against them before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton. They are charged with larceny of an automobile and highway robbery by Chief of Police Henry Dysart and larceny of the handbag and overcoat by Karl Wright, lieutenant of police of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in this district.

In default of bail Martin and Kline were placed in the county jail to await a hearing.

Edgar Martin and Edward Kline, charged with larceny of an automobile, larceny of an overcoat and handbag and highway robbery at the office of Alderman Walter T. Hamilton, waived hearings this morning, when taken before the alderman. They were bound over to court after waving hearings.

Martin is out under $1,000 bail pending the disposition of the case Kline is still confined to the county jail.

STATE CHARGES MELLETT SLAIN IN CONSPIRACY

see Ben Rudner often while in Massillon.

"On July 9," said the prosecutor, "McDermott, with Kascholk, got into a car with Louis Mazer and Ben Rudner and drove to Canton."

"A certain German police dog will be identified with that ride later," said the prosecutor.

Still without the slightest display McClintock stated that:

"Mellett was killed as the result of a conspiracy of bootleggers and we will show that McDermott was one of those conspirators."

Defense Accusations

Defense Attorney E. L. Mills then started his opening outline.

Mills fairly shouted as he charged his client was indicted as a result of a conspiracy between Joseph Roach, Chicago attorney; Prosecutor C. B. McClintock and other forces "to force an indictment in this murder case before election."

After much objection by the state to that sort of a statement the court admonished the attorney, but allowed the statement to go into the record.

Dr. T. C. McQuate, county coroner, was the first witness called.

Mrs. Mellett On Stand

COURTHOUSE, Canton, O., Dec. 13.—Mrs. Florence Mellett, youthful widow of the slain publisher of the Canton Daily News, this afternoon took the witness stand to add her bit to the testimony which the state of Ohio has prepared against Patrick E. McDermott, accused conspirator in her husband's death plot.

Dressed almost entirely in black, the slain publisher's widow went to the witness box and in a quiet voice gave her name and said she now lived in Indianapolis, Ind.

Little Martha Jane, one of the four fatherless Mellett children, accompanied her to the witness stand. The little girl gazed about the courtroom in innocent wonderment.

Meantime, guards mobilized from deputy sheriffs and police officers, standing on table in the court corridors, battled with a huge crowd and threatened to use night clubs in an effort to keep the mob from rushing the courtroom.

BUTZ AVENUE HOME ENTERED LAST NIGHT

Frank T. Butz of 422 Butz avenue reported to the police this morning that his home had been entered some time between 9 and 12 o'clock last night and two children's banks containing about $5 each taken. Officers Horner and Lynch were detailed and found that entrance had been effected by breaking out a cellar window.

Town Talk

With radio being used in almost every line of endeavor, it may not be a distant day until police of different cities will be equipped with small sets which will enable them to hear reports from headquarters at certain periods allotted for this purpose by officials.

This prediction may not come today or Tuesday but it will come some day in the same way as the aeroplane entered the police business. When the man who said that some day an aeroplane would be used in pursuit of bandits, the "eyes of the air" penetrating thickets for fugitives.

The present system of distributing reports to policemen on beats is one which results in the desk sergeants flashing lights at police boxes. Police "listen in" to hear of stolen cars, of holdups, description of slayers and in general, obtain information which sets them ready for action.

Generally this information is designated every hour. In the future it may come to pass that a certain time of the day will be scheduled for police to "tune in" on "H. D. Q." which to them will mean headquarters. The only point against this plan which may be enacted some day is that the burglar might also carry a radio—and profit by the information.

The corporation that will operate The Castleton, new hotel being erected in New Castle, is getting ready for business, despite the fact that the hotel is only under construction. Many signs are being posted along the highways leading into New Castle, and in various parts of western Pennsylvania, calling attention to the fact that The Castleton is located in New Castle. By the time that the hotel is ready it will be well known to all travelers of the highways in this section.

When somebody gets a load of coal today, it may be about a half a ton short. About noon while a big truck was passing along Washington street the end gate came down and here and there along the street portions of the load were deposited. So much coal fell off in places that it was necessary for the motorman of a street car following, to stop his car, get off and go ahead, pushing the large lumps of coal off the street car track, before the car could proceed. The truck turned in an alley, and it is possible that the driver came back and got the coal, for it was gone from Washington street fifteen minutes later.

It is beginning to dawn upon Attorney K. Logan that he is not the victim of a joker but the victim of a thief and as his thoughts dwell upon continued cold weather he is minus an overcoat.

Saturday morning he visited the Leslie restaurant. Preparatory to ordering his breakfast he hung his overcoat on a nail.

When he arose from his chair the overcoat was missing. He didn't say much, believeing that a joker had hidden his coat.

Last night he appeared in town and said that he had come to the realization that someone had appropriated his coat for good.

Saturday night police enjoyed an odd sight—a gentleman of color, dressed as all men should be—excepting that his two feet were encased in a pair of ladies "open work" slippers.

Police cast furtive eyes and finally Plain Clothesman Young asked: "What are you wearing those kind of shoes for?"

"I'm breaking them in for a woman" he replied.

Plan To Reopen Powell Mine Near Oil City, Penna.

Mine Idle For 60 Years Will Be Reopened According To Plans

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Dec. 13.—Reopening of the Powell coal mine at Pithole, near here, after more than 60 years' idleness, preparations for which were under way today, brought to light the fact that coal from this historic shaft once commanded what is believed to be a record price.

During the height of the oil boom at Pithole, in the middle '60's, a sudden scarcity of coal threatened to force a shutdown of operations, veterans recall. A teamster from the Powell mine, appearing upon the scene with a load of coal, immediately disposed of his stock at $3 a bushel, or a record price of $75 a ton.

The mine was shut down later because of presence of water, but recently examined by W. W. Powell of Venus, Pa., grandson of the original owner, was discovered to possess a rich vein and was ordered reopened.

CHURCH MODERATOR HERE THIS EVENING

this morning at 10 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church, the moderator, Walter E. McClure, D. D., occupying the chair.

After the opening exercises conducted by Dr. McClure and the roll call, the routine business of the presbytery was taken up.

A large attendance was present, ministers and elders from nearly all the churches of the presbytery being present. The Shenango presbyteries among otner churches includes those of New Castle, Ellwood City, New Wilmington, Sharon and Sharpsville.

At 11 o'clock the presbytery adjourned to meet with the Ministerial association of New Castle to hear an address by the Rev. John McNaugher, D. D. president of the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary of the United Presbyterian church. Dr. McNaugher addressed the meeting on the subject "The Virgin birth of Christ" which was considered very appropriate for the Christmas season.

These fellowship dinners have been held in several of the large churches of the different presbyteries. Thus a great number of the pastors and men of the church have the opportunity of getting together in good fellowship and hearing many noted speakers that they would not be able to hear in more local and smaller meetings.

GANG WAR FLARES WITH NEW MURDER

STEUBENVILLE, O., Dec. 13.—Another flare-up of gang warfare in Jefferson county, which has already taken eight lives this year was feared with the finding of the body of Federico Pasim, of Newell, alongside an isolated road at Parlett yesterday. Pasim had been shot through the head.

The authorities believe that he was taken to the secluded spot after being killed elsewhere. A gold watch, a diamond ring and $20 in cash were found in his clothing, indicating that robbery was not the motive for the murder.

Pasim was last seen in the mining village of Tiny Fork, Saturday afternoon. Four men were killed in gang wars in this county in August, last.

She read several letters from soldier boys showing how they appreciated letters sent them. Mrs. Cunningham also read two letters from soldier boys thanking the union for things sent them.

The following report was given: Six bouquets; three calls; one hundred and twenty-six papers and magazines; ten garments; eleven pounds of home made candy sent to hospitals; three potted plants; seventeen letters written; two new members and eighteen dollars in cash.

PROSPERITY AHEAD

CONGRESS has been furnished by Secretary Mellon with some statistical evidence that the United States is today enjoying prosperity with nothing to cause it to ebb. After placing his finger on isolated local conditions of depression and contrasting them with the general condition of prosperity, he says:

"The strength of our present prosperity is in the broadness of its base; yet with all this spending savings accounts have gone up, more life insurance is being written and more sound securities are sought by the small investor. Credit throughout the country seems to be ample. On the whole, it seems to me our domestic situation is in good shape and we can look forward to another satisfactory year."

Another reason for the satisfying aspect of the American outlook is the marked improvement in the world outlook. Europe is gradually recovering from her post-war stagnation and bankruptcy, and that means a larger foreign demand for American goods and American money.

There are two statements almost hidden in the treasury secretary's report which provide much food for thought:

"We have worked hard and we have progressed," he says simply but with telling effect.

"In a nation as extensive as the United States and having such varied interests, there must be sections or trades which may not at all times be sharing equally in this prosperity," is his reply to the pessimists and politicians-with-a-purpose who discover one bruise on an otherwise perfect apple and call it rotten to the core.

And there is not in the whole report of Mr. Mellon the faintest note of overconfidence.

FRILLS?

A CLEVELAND citizen has brought suit against the school board to prevent it from using public school funds to pay for dental work in the public schools.

The school board is doing a progressive bit of work in mouth hygiene. It not only gives the children the instruction but it sells them high grade tooth brushes for ten cents a piece. Now comes forward a good old hardshell who objects that the school law does not authorize the board to make such expenditures.

The answer of the school board is made by a teacher and physician. They do not say, as they have every right to, that education for life is the best education and that if you teach children habits of good health you are most truly educating them. Perhaps that might not come within the letter of the law. So they have a much better legal answer.

The school teacher and the physician both testify that mouth hygiene has a direct relation to ability to think and to school attendance. Very practical and legal and good to know.

The school teacher told the result of her experiment in teaching the proper care of the teeth. There was an improvement of 99.8 per cent in the mental ability of the school children who were thus taught. The wise and practical citizen wanted to know whether the children were idiots before they were taught how to brush their teeth. And there is just the difference between the common sense of the school board and the nonsense of the self-satisfied but ignorant objector.

How in the world any sane man can object to teaching little children so necessary a technic of good health passes understanding. If the laws of Ohio do not permit the school board to do work of this kind, the school board should not quit. The law should be immediately changed.

HONESTY

TWELVE years ago a strike of garment workers in New York bankrupted a clothing manufacturer. After giving his creditors everything he had except his life insurance he still owned $100,000. Though his creditors wrote off his debts in full he has been amortizing them as the years passed and on Christmas Day will pay off the present unpaid balance of $30,000.

Though under no legal obligation to pay this large debt he has felt a moral obligation to do so and has consecrated his life to that honorable purpose. No one doubts that this will be a far happier Christmas to him than to the creditors who receive his unique Christmas checks.

In books one reads of men who devote their lives to settling a debt of honor and of sons or daughters who keep vows to meet the obligations of fathers who died bankrupt, but here in real life is a case not less heroic than those in fiction.

Credit men attest the honesty of the great majority of men and women. They cite statistics showing that it is the exceptional person who can forget a debt and that most debts of long standing are eventually paid without pressure from the creditor. The case of the New York man is unusual mainly because of the large amount involved.

The money with which the $100,000 debt is being paid has come from the theatrical business in which the former manufacturer has successfully engaged since he was forced out of the clothing business.

What's wrong seems to depend a great deal upon who does it.

The art of drawing requires some talent, but the art of overdrawing requires genius.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:33. Sun rises tomorrow 7:18.

A Cleveland lady testified in court that after she came back from a trip to California she found her husband's kisses cold. She might have known if she left her kisses in this cold climate all winter they would be cold in the spring.

One disquieting thought that comes to us o'er and o'er is in connection with the number of modern developments they are tacking onto the original sin.

Very often there are a lot of people who profit greatly financially through the enterprise of a few citizens who put up their money to help the city generally. Getting everything and giving nothing in return is not good citizenship.

An optimist is a man who expects to cash in on a promise that isn't down in writing.

Down in Washington they say great progress has been made in enforcing the dry law. If they count getting a lot of people into jail and making it so no one can get a drink in which any confidence can be placed, then of course some progress has been made. There certainly has been a lot of effort made to enforce the dry law and most every other law has been neglected, including the murder law.

The man who is always being carried away by his impulses must expect, some time or other, to do a nose dive.

But you'll never see one pulling on a cigarette while darning her children's socks.

There are some people who cannot understand how some men can give their time, their money and and often their product in the interest of a better New Castle or in behalf of something that will benefit all. Most of the men who give get back ten to one what they give and they don't expect to get anything back—but it comes in the long run just the same.

The reason opportunity's knock isn't always a boost is because it's hard to make any impression on a dumbbell.

It is reported that the father of a New York heiress who married a count is willing to give said count half a million dollars if he will go away and not worry his daughter and her young son. The rich have an awful time of it in getting rid of something they have annexed by mistake.

The people of South Dakota want President Coolidge to spend his vacation out there next summer and they are offering him a 60-room house and a big park to rusticate in. No doubt they will try and make a cowboy out of the President. Last summer they made an enthusiastic fisherman out of the President. Next thing he will be neglecting his work and playing golf.

A United States senator from Chicago, Democrat, is awfully nasty about seating the Republican senators who spent a lot of money at the recent election. He evidently thinks he is some pickle—Dill.

From time to time there has appeared in this column some wonderful poems signed by S. S. Meyer. He is a local resident and has written much that has been received very enthusiastically. He has just published a poem that contains about one hundred verses. It is entitled "Satan", the story of the creation in verse. This book can be had at Metzler's and all will enjoy it.

Some enthusiasts want to erect a memorial to a prize-fighter who died recently in one of the parks in that city. Quite a howl has gone up against this from different sources. There are a lot of politicians there who may think it more appropriate to erect memorials for them.

An eminent scientist says no one is entirely sane. We presume that belief is his particular form of insanity.

Most employers try to hire honest employes. However, some times some get on the payroll who run accounts with merchants and often never pay. The merchant then goes to the employer and tries to get the employer to collect the account for him to make the employer compel the employe to pay the account. The really right thing for a merchant to do when approached for credit is to ask the employer if the one applying is worthy of it. This will save the merchant a lot of money and the employer a lot of embarrassment. Know your people before you extend credit to them and the employer often is in good position to tell. Don't ask an employer to collect from his employes for you.

A milliner in Jamestown, N. Y., died recently and left a small-sized fortune just from trimming hats. Nikola P. Pachitch is dead.

That means nothing to almost 115,000,000 Americans, but it means a great deal to Serbians, whom the able old statesman had served many years. He was about to take charge of the government again when death took him.

Major Coupal, President Coolidge's physician, says some Egyptians had false teeth. He had a set found in the Nile mud made by the Greeks, who now sell you fruit and other things.

Such teeth were rare. Even in George Washington's day the making of them was very clumsy. The ancients went through old age without false teeth or eyeglasses.

No wonder they called old age "the hateful road".

The Japanese emperor has pneumonia but is better. May he recover soon and his government maintain its friendly attitude to the United States!

A college authority says college men fail, not for lack of learning, but for lack of character. There is not enough discipline in universities, Dr. Brown tells the Union College Alumni association.

Colleges treat boys from 18 to 23 as though they were men, whereas usually they are children.

On the other hand, the West Point academy seems to overdo discipline. A first-year cadet, A. J. Van Leeuween, trying to stand straight and stiff enough to please his superiors, strained too hard and he broke his neck.

Young West Pointers, stiff and straight, are fine to see and gratifying to their superior officers. But it is an agile mind rather than a stiff neck that makes a great soldier. Napoleon was slouchy, also Frederick the Great.

Yesterday's earthquake was in Chile, strong shocks in several towns. Many Chinese say quakes are caused by the earth dragon turning in his sleep. The earth's crust is still settling, sinking here, rising there, as it has done for a thousand million years, getting more stable all the time.

It is said that in this country there is more commercial "flying mileage" than in any other.

For that thanks are due to President Coolidge and Postmaster General New, who have encouraged air mail routes. But flying back and forth by mail carriers, most desirable, does not mean building up national aerial defense.

And for our commercial flying, we depend on private initiative, citizens building planes that will "get by" and enable them to make money carrying mail. That isn't a government program for promoting aviation.

Japan, when she recently placed an order in England for 25 flying machines of 1,000 horsepower each —we haven't even one of that kind in this country—did not rely on private enterprise. One of our 48 states could buy Japan, but the intelligent Japanese know that, rich or poor, no price is too high for national safety.

The Countess of Suffolk and Berks evidently does not know that the Bible forbids you to call your brother "Raca"—thou fool. She says, in court, that her brother, Mr. Leiter, is a fool, but lucky. Every idea he ever had was bad, but the family's Chicago real estate increased in value more rapidly than he could get rid of the estate funds.

Buying real estate in Chicago, New York and a hundred other places in the United States, for years past, has been a game in which you could not lose.

The real estate buyer was like the man in the "gentlemen's poker game," in which it was not necessary to show your hand.

Asked if he had won he replied, "How could I lose?"

Lord Inchcape says missionaries are to blame for the upheaval against Britain in China. This calls indignant denials from bishops and others.

Everybody should know that missionairies have done great good, not only spiritually but materially in the far east, especially in a medical way. They have taught natives to take care of their bodies as well as their souls.

Some of them, it is true, have made money. The seven greatest sugar fortunes made in Hawaii all belonged to descendants of intelligent missionaries.

But what is there wrong about saving the souls of heathens and making a fortune, honestly, at the same time? One, or ten, talents should not be buried. The Bible says so.

Charles Hall Grandgent, who has just completed 30 years of service as professor of romance languages at Harvard university, has been described by President A. Lawrence Lowell of that institution as "one of our greatest and most lovable scholars." Dr. Grandgent was born in Dorchester, Mass., and received his A. B. from Harvard in 1883. For several years he engaged in tutoring and for seven years he was director of modern language instruction in the Boston public schools. Since 1896 he has been a member of the Harvard faculty. Dr. Grandgent has been honored with the presidency of the Modern Language Society of America and of the Simplified Spelling board. IS AMERICA A SHYLOCK?

Under this caption Mr. Balph Beaver Strassburger, who has been prominently put forth by Pennsylvania as vice president, has printed a little booklet in which he forcibly demonstrates that the European idea of America's being a bloodsucker is not in accordance with the facts. It may prove interesting reading to Americans.

It is hard to see how America is to blame for Europe's financial condition. To be sure, we have committed about the greatest offense that one man can commit toward another. We have prospered and Europe has not; we are rich and they are poor, and everybody knows that the rich man is naughty and the poor man is the favorite of the gods.

We do not recognize this idea merely as the working out of the inferiority complex, but much of our legislation is in accordance therewith.

We are in favor of any taxation which taxes the rich and lets the poor go, without reference to justice, but only with reference to who has the most easily available funds to be taken.

The causes of America's prosperity may be found to a large extent outside of the war and anything that has to do with war. We have an immense virgin territory, we have free opportunity, we have no tariff barriers that restrict our internal traffic, we have an intelligent, ambitious and hard-working populace. And we have no class system such as prevails abroad to work continual trouble between capitalist and laborer. Besides this, we pay our debts, and Uncle Sam's money is worth a hundred cents to a dollar anywhere you care to go.

All this would spell prosperity entirely aside from war.

And what happened during the

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

AVOIDING DEAD 'UNS

The late Vice President Marshall had a very humorous train of thought. It will be remembered that he practised law in the state of Indiana at one time, and during that time represented the Pennsylvania Company. One of Marshall's good stories grew out of his relationship with the Pennsylvania Company.

The Pennsylvania Company planned to double track their lines through Marshall's county in Indiana, and it was necessary to procure rights-of-way. Now rights-of-way may be acquired either by outright purchase or by the exercise of Eminent Domain. It was up to Marshall to get the right-of-way. One day he was surprised by a real estate agent of the company appearing in his office with a land owner and his wife to have a Deed drawn to the Railroad Company for a quarter acre farm lot. The consideration named was to be eight hundred dollars. The price was outrageously high, and Mr. Marshall wanted to know why the price. The Company might by condemnation proceedings acquire this particular piece of property for the outside price of $150.00, including all fees and costs. The agent's reply is the interesting part of the story:

"This farmer," he said, "had a son-in-law who had lost a leg in connection with a threshing machine, and later, when it was discovered that the Railroad intended to enlarge its trackage, and must widen its right-of-way, this farmer did some quick thinking. He recovered the remains of the departed leg, and buried them directly on the railroad survey, erecting a wooden marker recording:

'Sacred to the Memory of The Left Leg of Wabash Jones Balance to be Buried here when He dies.'

That, insisted Mr. Farmer, made the staked off surrounding plot a graveyard. And no other servitude might be placed upon it. The law respecting the devotions and emotions of Mankind forbade trespass there. "And see"—reasoned that seasoned old corporation real estate agent, "see the precedents I am up against; the Pennsylvania Railroad from the day it started has been built up different from some of its neighbors — always ducking the graveyards."

THE TRUTH

The difficulty is to get the truth.
One swears to this, the other swears to that.
We never know exactly where we're at.
Age has a wider glimpse of life than youth.
On some things it's as plain as it can be.
May and December never can agree.

A woman's world is trimmed with silk and lace.
She should be loved and sheltered through the years.
Her bitterest enemies are frowns and tears.
But man has sterner foes, he thinks, to face.
His is a boisterous life. Let beauty fade
What matters that, if money can be made?

Each is the center of a little ring
From which a certain viewpoint may be had.
What one deems good another vows is bad.
One man's misfortune wealth to me may bring.
And so I judge all matters that I see
Always as they affect my own and me.

The difficulty is to get the truth.
There is so much not wholly understood.
What's bad today, tomorrow may be good.
The world of age is not the world of youth.
Woman a ndman to different viewpoints cling.
From personal interests all our judgments spring.

POEMS-HOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"THE ODYSSEY"
By Andrew Lang

Poems written in praise of other poems are not common. Poets have been fond, once in a while, of celebrating their fellows in the high craft—as witness Shelley's elegiac, "Adonais", written on the death of Keats, and "Wordsworth's Grave", by William Watson. The wonder and glory and granite beauty of the Odyssey could not be better expressed than in this compact sonnet by a master. Lang died in 1891, and wrote many lovely lyrics, one of which I have already given in this series.

As one that for a weary space has lain
Lulled by the song of Circe and her wine
In gardens near the pale of Proserpine,
Where that Aegean isle forgets the main,
And only the low lutes of love complain,
And only shadows of wan lovers pine,
As such an one were glad to know the brine
Salt on his lips, and the large air again—
So gladly, from the songs of modern speech
Men turn, and see the stars, and feel the free
Shrill wind beyond the close of heavy flowers,
And through the music of our languid hours
They hear like Ocean on a western beach
The surge and thunder of the Odyssey.

Illness Of Attorney Prevents Taking Up Fred Mayberry Case

Owing to the illness of Attorney A. Martin Graham, the case of the Commonwealth against Fred Mayberry, charged with murder in connection with the death of Emma Mary Gibson, who was killed in an auto accident on Highland avenue, September 12, could not be taken up at court this morning. Attorney Graham is counsel for Mayberry. It was not known that he was ill until this morning, and as there were no other case that could be taken up until witnesses had been notified, Judge Hildebrand excused jurors until 1:30 this afternoon.

If Mr. Graham is able to be out the case may be taken up later in the week.

Judge Prather, who is assisting Judge Hildebrand this week, heard arguments in several cases that had been tried before him this forenoon.

Prosperity should continue while banks kindly carry the $10,000 mortgage given in 1920 on an $8,000 property.

war? We sent thousands of men to give up their lives in Europe and we spent several billion dollars. We lent money to France freely, for what purpose it does not matter; the point is France never paid it back, never promised to pay it back, and probably has no intention of paying it back. This makes us responsible for all of France's disaster.

It is hard to see how anyone outside of Bedlam could be convinced by this logic.

Great Britain, France and Italy got a lot of territory as the outcome of the war. Great Britain received 930,000 square miles in Africa and now controls that continent from Egypt to Cape Town. She got mandates amounting to control of territory covering 143,000 square miles in Asia Minor which contains some very rich oil fields. Besides this she got the former German island such as the Bismarck Archipelago, the Samoan, Nauru and the Kaiser Wilhelm Islands.

France got Alsace-Lorraine with its large steel mills and coal mines.

Italy benefited at the expense of Austria. She got the important harbor of Trieste, and other things.

"Uncle Shylock," or America, did not receive one foot of territory and none of the other loot of the war. She only received an invitation to lend these other countries some money, which she did.

She was not a disinterested spectator sitting on the fence, as were Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland and so forth, but she pitched in and helped the Allies. Now she is paying the price.

Because America has lent vast sums of money to the European nations which she audaciously asks to be paid back some time, no hurry! —she is called "Uncle Shylock," and M. Clemenceau dramatically declares that France is not for sale, which implies that America wants to own France.

We do not want to own France nor any other country. We have too much territory now. We simply want to mind our own business and to trade with the other countries.

That is about all there is to it.

M. Strassburger gives concisely the opinion of most Americans.

Thirty-Two Forward In Mahoning Church

Third Week Of Revival Services Starts Sunday In Mahoning M. E. Church

This week's evangelistic services in the Mahoning Methodist church will conclude the special services. Sunday evening in the church when the invitation to go forward was given, thirty-two people responded.

Rev. Harry Maitland, the evangelist, preached at both morning and evening services on Sunday. In the morning his theme was, "The Spiritual Power." Text from Luke 24:49, and Acts 1:8. He said: That the church of Jesus Christ as well as machinery must have power. That the church's power is the spiritual power of the Holy Ghost. God gives this power to individuals not for selfish ends but to enable them to be of service. That when Jesus said when ye receive this power then ye shall become witnesses for me. That a witness is only of value according to what he personally knows. We are witnesses for him in the home, among our enemies, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth. That promise of this power is extended to all who profess the name of Christ.

In the evening the subject was "The Unpardonable Sin," text from first John, 5:16 and 17 verses. This revealed there is a sin unto death. That Jesus said, that sin would be forgiven man save sin against the Holy Ghost. That no one sin of the common sin known to man is the unpardonable sin. The most common unpardonable sin is the constant refusal to accept Christ. By quotations of scripture and illustrations from life he brought the truth home to the hearts of the people in the audience.

At the Sunday evening service the auditorium, Sabbath School room and balcony were all filled to capacity. The Epworth League attended in a body. A feature of the service was a vocal solo by Mrs. Hildebrand.

Showdown Approaching In Nicaraguan Policy

Every Diplomat In Washington Watches Situation With Rapt Attention

American Guardianship Over Countries Of Western Hemisphere At Stake

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—A showdown is rapidly approaching in the serious sub-surface conflict that has been raging for months between the United States and Mexico over affairs in Nicaragua.

Every diplomat in Washington, particularly the South and Central Americans, is watching the situation with rapt attention, for there is at stake the entire American policy of assumed guardianship over the countries of the western hemisphere.

The appeal of Adolfo Diaz, the American-backed president of Nicaragua, for the formation of a Central American bloc against Mexico, which was broadcast to the world Sunday, has brought the showdown appreciably nearer, in the opinion of diplomats here. Diaz put into definite form the charges that the Calles government is "bolshevistic and communistic" and that it is aiming at the inculcation of Moscow's political doctrines throughout the little republics to the south.

"My government," said Diaz, "does not attack the political tendencies and policies now so notable in Mexico, such as laws violating private property rights, communism and the persecution of religion, insofar as these policies are limited to Mexico.

"My government, however, is firmly resolved to oppose the efforts of the Mexican government to introduce these ideas and practices into Nicaragua through the violent overthrow of the established constitutional government of Nicaragua.

"My government feels that many worthy Nicaraguans, members of the historic and illustrious Liberal party, have, in the blindness of political passion, allied themselves with the forces of communism, radicalism and religious persecution now in control and running rampant in Mexico.

"Should the government in Nicaragua fall at the hands of the Calles government in Mexico, no other Central American government would be secure from a similar fate whenever the caprice of the Mexican government might so decide."

Diaz flatly accused the Mexican government of sponsoring filibustering expeditions to equip the Liberal revolutionists with arms and ammunition.

The Diaz manifesto is expected to create intense resentment in Mexico City, and Washington is anticipating the accusation that the document was inspired, if not actually written, by the state department's representatives.

It will, in any event, impose a further strain on the already severely strained relations between Mexico City and Washington.

Associated Charities Appreciate Hospital Gift To New Castle

At a regular meeting of the Associated Charities at their office on East street the folowing resolution was unanimously adopted:

"The Board of Directors of the Associated Charities feel compelled to give expression to their deep appreciation to David Jameson for his most generous gift to the city of New Castle and Lawrence county of a new hospital. The kindly sympathy and generous interest in his fellow men which prompted this gift will remain in the memory of his towns people longer than any expensive monument which might have been erected to his memory would have been crumbled and decayed.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Jameson's generosity has taken this course and that he has given to New Castle something that will be of lasting benefit and service in helping to alleviate the pain and suffering of those who are compelled to seek the aid of a hospital in restoring them to health; yet we are not surprised as we received many evidences of his deep sympathy and lasting interest in the poor and unfortunate people of our city.

We hereby extend our thanks to Mr. Jameson for this much needed gift and we believe that he will receive the pleasure and satisfaction out of it which his kind generosity so richly deserves."

Signed personally: F. A. Hover, Mrs. J. L. Stratton, Anna I. Gilliland, Della A. Glenn, J. O. Rodgers, Robert A. McKinney, John G. Nothdurft, Clyde C. Green, J. K. Furst and T. A. Gilkey.

Senior High School News

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT
Commerce Club

Because everyone has been so busy, the organization of the Ne-Ca-Hi Commerce Club has been postponed until after the Christmas holidays. But because it has been postponed is no indication that there is lack of interest. Many commercial students are looking forward with much anticipation to this new club, which will be a club of commerce students managed by students of this group.

The fact that the students' grade must be C and better before they are eligible for membership is causing a lot of them to work harder, so that they may present their names to the club for membership. Now that the second report is ended, the commercial teachers are able to check up on grades, and determine approximately, at least what the enrollment in the new club should be. There are some three hundred and twenty-five students in this rapidly growing department, and from this number, a live, energetic club should be formed.

The teachers in the department have completed the constitution and bylaws, and everything is ready for a running start, directly after the Christmas holidays are over. The Pittsburgh School of Accounting has offered its cooperation by promising to send speakers, free of charge, who will speak to the students on the practical side of business. It is the hope of the teachers that the business men of New Castle will cooperate when called upon, and will make the club a practical and useful organization for New Castle's future business men and women.

MATHEMATICS
Trigonometry

The class in trigonometry has been doing some outside work in preparing projects along field closely related to mathematics such as engineering and science. The work is merely supplementary, and has a two-fold purpose. The primary being to broaden the student's field of knowledge on technical lines by having him acquainted with the best literature available and to make the library his tool. The second develops the idea that if the student expects to be an engineer, he should start being one in the beginning of his studies, that is, he should read such books in the library as will benefit one intending to become an engineer.

Some worthy contributions have been made by members of the class in writing up reports of the field investigated and some are not yet completed. Projects that have been handed in and are particularly worthy of mention are:

"Construction of Dams," by Jack Christman.

"The Panama Canal," by William Kirk.

"Construction of Bridges," by James Blanning.

"Great Mathematicians and Their Work," by Robert Mackenzie.

Casts Suspicion In Slaying Case

(International News Service)

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., Dec. 13.—Suspicion of complicity in the slaying of Clara Olson, 22, turned again today toward the household of Erdman Olson, 18, her sweetheart, not a relative, following what authorities believe was a damaging admission by Edwin Knutson, a farmhand.

Knutson, employed by Albert Olson, father of the missing youth, today in a conscious moment declared from the sickbed where he was lying dangerously ill, it was hard to "stick to the truth if you knew what Albert Olson knows."

Name Of Woman Is Stricken From Note In Court Opinion

Court Refuses To Change Verdict Obtained By Dr. Duff Against Schossburger

In an opinion handed down this morning by Judge Hildebrand in the case of the First State bank against Ludovivi Mucci, Michaelango Cassella and Lena Cassella, a rule issued upon the plaintiff to show cause why judgment should not be opened as to Lena Cassella is made absolute. This means that the name of Lena Cassella will be stricken off as one of the defendants. The note was for $1900. It is found, in the opinion, that Lena Cassella received no benefit from the note and merely signed as security for Mucci.

In the case of James S. and John Ireland against Joseph D. Simon and others, defendants' motion for a new trial is refused. This was a case in which the jury awarded a verdict of $167.23 on a bill for gloves purchased by the defendant from plaintiff and about which there was afterwards a dispute, the defendants claiming that the gloves were not like the sample. However considerable time had elapsed between the purchase and when the objection was raised.

In the the case of Dr. Thomas Duff against James Schossburger, motion of defendant for judgment notwithstanding the verdict, was refused. This was a case in which Dr. Duff of Wampum secured a verdict for $750, as damages to his auto truck by the Schossburger truck on the New Castle-Harlansburg road. The decision means that the verdict stands as rendered by the jury.

In the case of the Ellwood Furniture company against Ira Wiley, exceptions are sustained and judgment reversed. The case was one in which negligence in the repair of a bath tub was claimed by the plaintiff, it being alleged that damage amounting to $77.36 had resulted on account of an improper connection made by Wylie. Judgment was given for the amount by an Ellwood City justice. The court reverses this on account of defects in the papers.

Claimed Signature Of George Greer On Note Is A Forgery

Note For $10,295 Dated March 13, 1913, In Hands Of H. F. A. Meissel

In the case of H. F. A. Meissel against the late George Greer and Robert C. Love, Judge Hildebrand handed down an opinion this morning in which a rule issued on the plaintiff to show cause why judgment should not be opened, is made absolute. This means that t here will be a jury trial to determine the facts.

On June 17, 1926, judgment was entered against the late George Greer by warrant of attorney on a note for $10,295, dated March 15, 1913, payable 12 years after date to H. F. A. Meissel and Emma Farver. The note purported to have been made by George Greer. It is endorsed by what purports to be an assignment by Emma M. Farver to Henry F. A. Meissel. On the margin is the word "Acknowledged" and what purports to be the signature of the late Judge W. D. Wallace, now deceased.

George Greer in his lifetime, presented a petition to open judgment, claiming that the signature to the note was a forgery, and that he did not owe Meissel anything. At that time ten or twelve business men, familiar with the signature of George Greer, testified that it was not his signature.

Dr. R. A. Wallace and J. C. Wallace, brothers of the late Judge W. D. Wallace, testified that it was not the signature of Wallace.

The court holds that it is improbable that the late Judge Wallace would write the word "acknowledged," and sign his name on the note. It is also held that George Greer, a man of large means, would give such a large note for a period of 12 years.

The court further finds that it appears that H. F. A. Meissel from 1894 to 1901 was in the Terre Haute, Ind., penitentiary for forgery. Previous to that he had served 4 years for grand larceny. From 1880 to 1886 he was in the Illinois penitentiary for horse stealing.

Under the order of court an issue will be framed and testimony will be taken as to the claim and the signature of Greer and Wallace.

White Christmas Not Likely In New York

Weather Bureau Reports Of Years Past Augur Against It

Army Of Workmen Now Engaged In Task Of Clearing Streets

By ARTHUR WIMER,
New York Correspondent New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—If the law of averages governs the weather conditions in New York, the city will be without snow or freezing temperatures on Christmas Day. Records at the Weather Bureau show that the chances of a White Christmas are only one out of five.

Since 1900 there have been only five occasions when snow fell in the city on December 25. With but one exception these snowfalls took place at intervals of exactly five years. December weather at the other Christmas seasons, according to the records, has been mild. And since New York experienced a white Christmas only two years ago with three inches of snow, the law of averages promises a Christmas this year without snawfall or freezing temperatures.

The only Christmas in many years that found the city truly blanketed in snow occurred in 1882 when seven inches of snow fell. The storm began in the early morning of that day and continued until long after darkness. In 1905, five and one-half inches of snow fell on Christmas day, but the temperature was mild, and the snow melted almost as soon as it touched the ground.

The warm wave that swept the entire east following the blizzard of last week sent the mercury to a level of 40 degrees in Manhattan as a promise of temperate weather for the coming holidays. The thaw melted much of the recent seven inch snowfall, and shortened by many days the task of the 21,000 men now engaged in cleaning the streets. According to Commissioner A. A. Taylor, the city will be entirely free of snow by Wednesday morning unless adverse weather conditions hamper the efforts of the street cleaning department.

Saturday 500 city trucks were engaged in hauling snow to the East River and the Hudson. Six hundred other trucks were plowing up the snow packed in the streets and piling it. Three hundred steam shovels and ditch-digging machines were busy loading the snow into trucks. Besides the regular force of 8,000 men, 13,000 additional laborers were assisting in the work of opening the streets to traffic. Two hundred flushing gangs with fire hose were washing out the thoroughfares already clean of snow.

One thousand four hundred miles of city streets were partially blocked by the recent snowfall. Of these probably seven hundred miles have now been cleared of snow, according to Commissioner Taylor. No estimate as to the cost of removing the snow is as yet available, but it will run well into the hundreds of thousands.

CAROL SINGERS MUST BEWARE

York Mayor Frowns On Use Of Latest Jazz Songs For Carols

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Dec. 13.—Songs about "red hot mammas" are not appropriate for use as Christmas carols, Mayor E. S. Hugentugler has declared. Therefore, York's chief executive does not propose to have the Christmas morn heralded by moaning saxophones and carolling groups who do not pick their selections with care.

Lamentable experience of past years with Christmas eve singing groups has caused the mayor to issue orders to the police department to compel registration at city hall of all groups of carol singers. Permits will be refused to those not considered sincere in their motives. Christmas morning all persons found carrolling without permits will be arrested.

The mayor said that in the past it has been the experience of Yorkers to be awakened before daybreak on the natal day by some intoxicated "barbershop quartet" engaged in putting close harmony into spirit interpretations of "Yes, We Have No Bananas," "You Gotta See Mamma Every Night," and songs less appropriate to the Christmas season. The mayor also said that complaints had been made that fox trots and Charleston tunes played by jazz orchestras on their way home from Christmas Eve dances made sleep impossible.

If such things happen during the coming Christmas season, the mayor declared, York will have large police concern, especially on Christmas morning.

STATE WELFARE WORKER WILL TALK TO LIONS

Mrs. Mary Dranga Campbell, executive director of the department of the Blind, State Welfare department, is to be in New Castle on Tuesday December 14 and will be the guest of the Lions club at their regular monthly meeting.

While here Mrs. Campbell will tell in detail what the state is doing for the blind and how everyone can help.

For the past two weeks Miss Mary Miller and Margaret Stern of the State Welfare Department of the blind have been in this county making a survey on which future activities are to be based. Misses Miller and Stern have been in New Castle for about two weeks and have about completed their survey.

This work is folowing up the week of meeting held in November when Senator Henry E. Lanius of York county was here under the direction of the Lions club. It is believed that something of a definite nature in the way of work for the blind will result from the survey and the visit of Mrs. Campbell.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all know drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Street Department Force Kept Busy During Sunday

Weather conditions were such over the week end, that the street department employes were kept busy on Sunday, an unusual occurrence in this city. Public necessity, however, made it necessary to do so.

The men of the department were engaged in removing the tremendous amount of ice, snow and slush from the street in order that they might not only be in a more passible condition, but also that the downtown section might be safeguarded from the effects of a sudden downfall of rain combined with the slush on the streets.

Street Fighting In Chinese City

Looting Is Reported At Ichang—Troops Are Being Massed

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Dec. 13.—Sharp street fighting has broken out in Ichange, according to reports from Hankow today, as a result of the Cantonese troops under General Yang Sen pouring into the city and looting freely, ignoring the orders of Yang Sen. The looters are reported clashing continuously with the troops garrisoned there.

Yang Sen is reported to be leaving for Szechuan, while his subordinate, Lu Chin-Shan, has already fled to Chungkiang.

One hundred and forty minor officials of the Nationalist Government at Canton were due to arrive at Hankow today.

Reports from Chuchow, Chekiang, indicate that although the Cantonese are massing their forces there, they do not intend to start their drive toward Shanghai until January. The loyalty of the Chekiang soldiers is doubted, the belief here being that they will join the Cantonese forces.

Girls in Japan are from a very early age systematically instructed in physical exercise, with the result that at maturity they are almost as strong as the men. It is not an unusual sight to see a company of young girls, who are strolling along a country road, step back a few yards for headway, and then, following a leader, all nimbly clear a five-foot fence by leaping over it.

Delph Hurt Near Here In Accident

John Brinton, Shenango township, an occupant of the car, received a shaking up when the machine overturned.

The car was not damaged to any extent.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in 1,000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent and then decided it should be sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from McKee's Cut Rate Store and Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and will do the same for you.

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 13.—The State Department of Highways announced here today that drivers' licenses of forty-three persons were revoked and the names of nine persons placed on the official blacklist for the week ending December 9.

Revocations for intoxication numbered seventeen and for larceny ten. The former included Mike Pich, Edward F. Vanderslice and William Boyle, all of Philadelphia; Jack Guyton, New Castle; Paul Shall, Bradford; and Abe Maxwell, New Castle; Among the persons who lost their licenses for larceny were Louis DeBarr, Lancaster; Monroe Schraffler, Mount Carmel; Roxie Ufolls, William Schwartz, Edward Concolman, Russell, Barnhart and Edward Rhodes, all of Fittsburgh.

Included in the six revocations for reckless driving were Mark G. Clay, Lancaster; Mike Cahoot, Wilkesbarre; and Curtis Reedy, Lebanon.

Transporting liquor caused five revocations among which were Eugene Mason, Jr., and Arthur Adge, both of Monongahela; and Frank Provonkano, of Canonsburg.

William M. Seidel, of Philadelphia, lost his license for aggravated assault and battery.

Included in the blacklistings, all for intoxication, were John Baluski, of Erie; James Gaffney, of Easton; and Charles McBride, of Philadelphia.

Whooping Cough Takes Heavy Toll

Rivals Diphtheria As Cause Of Death In Pennsylvania Says Report

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 13.—That whooping cough is a serious rival of diphtheria as a life taker is evidenced in the fact that during the first nine months of 1926, 776 persons died from whooping cough and 588 from diphtheria in Pennsylvania. These figures were revealed today by the bureau of vital statistics of the State Department of Health.

Charles H. Miner, state secretary of health said that two reasons could be given for this reversal of form in the two diseases found mostly among children. One was the fact that parents neglected to care properly for children infected with whooping cough and the cure is followed by a delay aftermath. The other reason was traced to toxin-antitoxin, or the extensive fight that state health officials have made against diphtheria in the public schools.

"In the reduction of the number of cases and deaths from whooping cough, honest cooperation by parents with the health and school authorities is important," Dr. Miner said.

"As to diphtheria," he said, "the preventative has been discovered, all that is necessary is to apply it. Communities, towns, and whole counties have had their school and pre-school children immunized. Thousands of children remain without this definite protection, unfortunately, but it is the earnest desire of the department of health to have them all immunized.

"Within the last few months many districts of the state have successfully immunized the greater portion of their child population. Allegheny county, with 17,000 children; Luzerne county, with 16,000, and Washington county with 18,000, are notable in this class. Bucks county having immunized 4,500, Lackawanna county 7,200, also are making good headway in the control of diphtheria. Some of the smaller counties, although a little slower in starting than the larger ones; have opened extensive campaigns against this destroyer of child life.

Diamond Merchants Are Robbery Victims

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 13.—Six heavily armed and masked white youths early today held up and robbed three men in an automobile of $29,000 worth of jewels they were taking to Lancaster, Pa.

Jacob Cohen, Israel Zieger and Simon Sieger, Philadelphia diamond merchants, were the victims. Thrusting the muzzles of sawed-off shotguns against the trio, two bandits stood guard while the third took cases containing the gems.

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—"Eats" at the seat of the United States government are nothing to brag about.

Congress might naturally be expected to feed itself well.

Parliament does, in England. It's described, as to its restaurant, as the best and cheapest "club" in Europe. This isn't an exaggeration.

I don't say the congressional restaurants are the worst and most expensive in America, but I do say that their fodder is mighty mediocre, their service rather less than that, and their customers never would pay such prices for such chow at any ordinary beanery.

There are four of these fueling stations in the capitol buildings: A restaurant exclusively for senators and their guests; a restaurant exclusively for representatives and their guests; a restaurant reserved for members of the press and the capitol staff, and a public restaurant.

There is also a restaurant each in the senate and house office buildings.

There isn't much to choose among them.

Take luncheon for instance:

Each restaurant serves a 65-cent lunch and a 75-cent lunch. There's also an a la carte bill-of-fare which can be run as high as $1 or $1.50, if the diner can stand that quantity of the kind of provender he gets.

These aren't such fancy figures, but neither is the table fancy. It's a cheap boarding house table. It will sustain life but it doesn't tempt the appetite. It isn't at all the kind of grub that anybody would suppose the lawmakers for the world's premier power would consider themselves entitled to.

All these restaurants are everlastingly crowded at meal time—particularly the noon meal. Senators and representatives pay off plenty of political obligations to home-town visitors by inviting the visitors to luncheon in their respective restaurants.

It's economical, from the senators' and representatives' standpoint, and there's a glamour to an out-of-town visitor—who doesn't see the check—about eating in a restaurant "for members only". What he eats is secondary consideration, or none whatever.

Nevertheless, the crowding is uncomfortable when once the capitol's novelty has worn off. Conscious that others are waiting you're impelled to gobble your food in a hurry and make way for new arrivals. Perhaps it's as well. It isn't anything to linger over, anyway.

The capitol's Ethiopian waiters are the Ritzy-est lot in Washington. Even senators and representatives mean nothing in their young lives. What, then, do they care for common, unofficial mortals

They're hurried, too—anxious to keep things moving. Nobody knows what minute he'll get the contents of a soup plate down his neck.

After the first relay of customers has been served the tables always are messy. The cutlery and chinaware only get a lick and a promise from the dishwasher. But you're mixing with senators and representatives.

* * *

The funny thing is that all these restaurants run at a loss, despite the business they do and the prices they charge for indifferent food and a grab-bag service. It must be because everything the government touches does lose. It's a cinch a Greek restaurant man could make lots of money out of them.

I Am My Own Hair Dresser
By Edna Wallace Hopper

That curl, that fluff, that sheen in my hair are due to no expert care. I never go to a hairdresser, never have a Marcel wave. My work on the stage allows no time for that.

I simply apply twice weekly a hair dress which great experts made for me. I call it my Wave and Sheen. To that my curly, abundant, glossy hair is due.

It will be a joy to you—I promise that. My guarantee comes with each bottle. Unless your hair beauty is doubled in an hour, I'll return the cost.

All toilet counters supply Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen at 75c per bottle. Go try it now.

King Ferdinand's Condition Report

(International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 13.—Dispatches from Bucharest today stated that while the condition of King Ferdinand of Roumania is satisfactory, he has lost weight until he now tips the scales at but 108 pounds. The monarch is kept to a rigid diet of sugared tea and meat extracts.

In loving remembrance of Mrs. Elizabeth Leight Mershimer, who departed one year ago, December 13, 1926.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled,
The boon his love had given,
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.

Sadly missed by her husband and children.

Movie Actresses Discuss Clothes

"Always Rehearse Your Clothes Before Appearing In Them," Stars Say

"WARDROBE TEST" IS LATEST THING

By MILLER HOLLAND
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 13.—American women would be better dressed and better groomed if they would but follow the example of Hollwood film stars and give themselves a thorough "dress rehearsal" before appearing in a new frock.

That was the consensus gleaned from several actresses themselves in Hollywood today.

The fact that the stars rehearse their clothes before they wear them is the keynote to perfect grooming, they declared.

Before a gown appears on the screen in any production at the Hollywood studios it is worn by the star in what is called a "wardrobe test."

This means that a few feet of film are taken in order that the photographic possibilities of the gown can be determined.

However, this is not the only reason that the "wardrobe test" is made. It is also made to get the wearer accustomed to the gown.

Before an actress wears a gown to a formal affair or merely on a shopping tour she rehearses it at home before a full-length mirror. This is done for the purpose of making her feel easy in the frocks and also to discover its bad lines if there are any.

Scores of film stars have reputations for being among the best dressed women in America because they adhere to this simple rule.

There is only one real test for the thousands and thousands of scenarios which are continually pouring into the Hollwood moving picture studios.

This test, according to Cecil B. DeMille, is whether they can satisfactorily answer the question:

"Is that interesting?"

According to Mr. DeMille, this phrase might well be called the pass-word of moving picture scenarios. It is the most uplifting and the most crushing of statements.

"Scenario writers have come to me aglow with enthusiasm over a certain beautiful sunset of a view silhouetted against the moon", Mr. DeMille declares.

"Actors have pleaded to retain a choice bit of acting which permitted them a splendid latitude for their talents.

"However, just by asking 'Is it interesting?' many of these brilliant ideas have died before they were born."

Interest, Mr. DeMille advises, is the more easily held if the initial theme of your play is simple. Such themes as the turning of hate into love and the story of class struggle are always interesting.

"Were every one of the amateur scenario writers of this country to apply this test to their stories before submitting them," Mr. DeMille concludes, "we would not have thousands but only dozens of manuscripts go through our reading department."

An unusual salley into an untouched field of motion picture art has been announced by Carl Laemmle, president of Universal Pictures, Corp.

Universal will make ten two-reel pictures with all-star negro cast.

Ten of Octavus Roy Cohen's stories about the negro in his native haunts have been purchased for this series, it was announced.

Universal is also working on a picturization of "Uncle Tom's Cabin", which, according to Laemmle, will not distort the story of slavery nor will it "bring discredit upon the South."

In Hollywood brides wear pink and widows wear red.

This, of course, is only on the screen.

Colors are very important to the camera. Although one sees only black and white and gray on the screen, fabrics of the most vivid and gorgeous shades are used.

In bride scenes it has been found that not white, but pink gives the best effect. White is too glaring. Pink is softer and richer.

Santa Compliments New Castle Stores

Declares Our Stores And Shops Compare With The Best In This Country

On Board Santa Claus' Reindeer Special.

Dear Folks of New Castle:—

You know I think New Castle is one of the best places in the world for little boys and girls, because when I was in your city a few days ago, some of the merchants showed me through their stores and shops and I saw many of the toys which Mrs. Santa Claus and I made for you in our workshop in the Garden Of Happiness.

Why, we saw for the boys, sleds, skates, balls, bicycles, tops, baseball and football suits, games and lots of other things ,and for the girls, dolls of all kinds and sizes; great big ones and wee small ones that could call "Mamma" and "Papa" some that could walk and talk and sing; little doll beds and dressers; dishes, sewing outfits, picture books and many other things to delight the hearts of kiddieland.

And your stores were so fine and big, I don't believe there are any finer anywhere; the clerks are courteous and well trained and are willing to show you everything which we make up in the Northland; why it's just like visiting our big workshop at the Top of the World to go through one of your stores. I think you children are certainly lucky to have such fine places where they sell the products of Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus.

Everything is spick and span the window displays are attractive and snappy and the goods which the merchants have for sale are attractively displayed. But the best part of all is that prices are so reasonable. It must be because your merchants are aggressive and that their buyers are watching the markets closely at all times.

If your mothers and fathers have not yet taken you through your stores to see all the Christmas goods and toys on display you just have them do it right away because you'll see many of the things you've dreamed about.

In fact I know that very few if any of you can visit our workshop because it's so far away, and that's why the stores have arranged to work for us.

Yours,
SANTA CLAUS.

Monogram curls are the latest for girls. Like the demure little girl of yesterday, the up-to-date miss has "a little curl right in the middle of her forehead." But, instead of the curl being ringleted, it is curled skilfully to the shape of the first letter of the wearer's name.

Diocese Of Erie Plans For Crusade

Episcopalians Prepare For Intensive Evangelistic Campaign Beginning January 9

At the 1925 General Convention of the Episcopal Church of America held in New Orleans, the Bishops, Clergy, and Laity assembled there originated the idea of projecting the "Bishops' Crusade"—a definite plan of action designed to stimulate the spiritual life of the church and to make evangelism a real part of its work. A Commission on Evangelism under the leadership of the Rt. Rev. Thomas C. Darst, Bishop of East Carolina was appointed comprised of eight Clergy and three Laymen. They are, Chairman, Bishop Darst; Rev. A. J. Gammack, Fitchburg, Mass., Secretary, Rt. Rev. Irving J. Johnson, Bishop of Colorado; Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, Bishop of Washington; Rt. Rev. G. Ashton Oldham, Bishop Coadjutor of Albany; Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, Philadelphia, Rev. John S. Bunting, Norfolk, Very Rev. G. R. E. MacDonald, Fresno, California; Mr. Courtenay Barber, Chicago; Chairman of subcommittee of Lay Evangelism, Mr. Willard Warner and Mr. Samuel Thorne.

A national headquarters located at The National Cathedral, Mount St. Albans, Washington, D. C., has been opened with Mr. Leon C. Palmer, one of the Field Secretaries of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, as executive secretary of the Commission and the Rev. W. J. Loaring Clark as Field Secretary.

Diocesan Commissions on Evangelism have been chosen to assist the National Commission and the personnel of the committee in the Diocese of Erie is as follows; Chairman, Rev. George C. Wadsworth, Oil City; Rev. Henry I. Lynds, Bradford; Rev. Malcolm Depui Maynard, Ridgway; Mr. J. H. Chickering, Oil City; Mr. C. F. Mackey, Franklin; Mrs. Albert Broadhurst, Titusville; Bishop John C. Ward, member ex-officio.

The Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal church is the Rt. Rev. John Gardner Murray, D. D., Bishop of Maryland. Bishop Darst was the sponsor for the idea of the Bishops' Crusade. Geographically the Church is divided into eight provinces and foreign department. The Diocese of Erie is in Province Three. Other Pennsylvania Dioceses in this Province are those of Bethlehem, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, and Pennsylvania.

This year marks the fifth anniversary of the connection of Bishop John G. Ward with the Diocese of Erie. He has been drafted as one of the small army of "Crusaders" which will open an intensive campaign of Evangelism for a period of six weeks from January 9th.

Christmas comes but once a Year — But It's Washday · · Once a Week.

Give her a New Easy Washer for Christmas — she will remember that day for years to come, for the Easy will do ALL the hard work of washday for her.

The secret of the New Easy Washer and its gentle, effortless speed in doing the washing, lies in the fact that it does two things at once. While eight double sheets or their equal in other clothes are being washed in the New Easy, eight other double sheets are being dried.

And of course, there is the famous water-circulating system which makes it unnecessary to handle any of the water. The pressure of a lever returns the suds, the rinse and the bluing waters to their proper tubs in less than a minute.

Free

We should like to lend you an Easy and let you do a week's washing in it. There is not the slightest cost or obligation. Should you wish to keep the New Easy, you can do so by making small monthly payments.

Stockman Gets Deer In Potter County Saturday

H. Clare Stockman, assistant chief of the fire department, has returned from a two weeks' stay at the New Castle Sportsmen's camp on Bailey run, Potter county and near Wharton, Pa.

He was fortunate enough to be one of the persons at the camp this season to get a deer, shooting a six point buck weighing about 150 pounds at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon and just shortly before he planned leaving for home.

Two other members of the camp, Roscoe Winnigal of Warren, Pa., and Kenneth Cotton of this city were also successful in getting a deer this season. Six members of the party are staying over in the hope of getting a deer. The camp is still allowed three.

Chief Stockman reports that deer were reasonably plentiful but that bear were very scarce, few being killed in that district this season.

Many Controversies Before U. S. Senate

Senate Will Be Compelled To Spend Much Time On Investigations

Congress Gets Down To Work After Week Of Continuously Feeling Its Way

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—After cautiously feeling its way for a week, congress today threw its legislative machine into high gear for a sprint through the winter session.

A long program of political controversies faced the senate while the immediate task confronting the house will be to pass upon the annual sheaf of appropriation bills. This outlook will give but little place to the legislative recommendations of President Coolidge as administration leaders in both branches already have killed his proposal for a tax rebate.

Plan Investigations

The senate will steal a page from the record of the previous congress by spending much time on investigations. Two new inquiries will get under way today, one by a senate elections sub-committee into the bribery charges raised against Senator Arthur R. Gould (R) of Maine, and the other by a commerce subcommittee into reports that the U. S. Shipping Board has opened negotiations for sale of the Government's North Atlantic merchant fleet, including the Leviathan. Other investigations, chiefly political in character, will follow.

One change from the last two sessions, however, will be recorded in the political harmony in Republican ranks. The Republican committee on committees made peace with the insurgents by restoring Senator Frazier (R) of North Dakota, last of the ousted insurgents, to the full seniority rights and party priveleges. With other insurgents and independent Republicans given choice committee chairmanships the party will stand united on politics, though not on legislation.

A stiff legislative program must be disposed of during the winter, even though tax reduction is not considered. In the senate, the question of leasing the Government's $150,000,000 Muscle Shoals project stood first on the program. There were indications that after some debate, the whole subject would be referred to the senate agriculture committee for further consideration. Following this, Republican leaders anticipated action on the tremendous rivers and harbors bill, which already has passed the house. In the offing lay two important prohibition measures, the Andrews reorganization bill, creating a new prohibition bureau, and the Goff bill, extending the Government's power in prohibition cases. Both promise warm debates.

In the house, the interior department appropriation bill was debated today, following enactment of the treasury and postoffice department supply measure. Others await action while Republican leaders expected to call up the alien property bill, on Wednesday, for settling all German-American claims, growing out of World War seizures.

Radio legislation presented a problem for both house and senate although no action will be taken, it was said, until the conferees on the Dill-White bills—enacted last session—have presented a report on their deliberations. A compromise measure probably will be enacted into law.

Carbon Monoxide Gas Is Fatal To Plant Manager

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 13.—Lapsing into a state of coma as carbon monoxide fumes poured from an automobile which he was repairing in a closed garage at Avalon, a suburb, death overtook William G. Tellin, 42, before he was able to shake himself from his stupor, police said today.

Tellin, Pittsburgh manager of the Sturdevant Power Plant Equipment Company, had been dead more than an hour when relatives went to the garage to call him. Deadly carbon monoxide fumes poured from the garage when the door was opened, and police, who were immediately summoned, were unable to revive the victim.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

WISHED INTO THE STORY

"Things-as-they-are! Things-as-they-are!" These were the words of Peter that the nut-brown one repeated. "A strange name for a country and one that I never heard before. Truly it must be afar off."

"It is!" said Peter, shortly. "Much time lies between your land and mine."

"Time?" questioned the nut-brown one, his puzzlement growing. "Indeed, you speak strangely and without wisdom. Do you not know 'tis by miles, not moments, that one measures distance?"

Peter shook his head.

"Not the distance that separates your land from mine!" declared he, stubbornly.

"But if you did not travel miles how, then, did you come to the Land of Long Ago?" The nut-brown one was determined to find out the whys and wherefores of the mysterious matter if he could, but Peter was quite as bewildered as was he and could tell little.

"How did I come here?" Sure and I've been asking myself that question ever since I met you. All I know is that one moment I was listening to a story and the next—well here I am right in the middle of the story itself. I drifted in on a wishing-wave, I guess. Pat told me that I could." Peter chuckled, but the nut-brown boy grew scornful.

"Huh! You speak in riddles, white boy, and I do not understand you. We waste time in trifling and yet, yet—I like you!"

Then Peter laughed loud.

"And I like you!" cried he. "So what else matters? I am here, that's enough for me; nor do I know how long I can stay. The magic that brought me may whisk me back without an instant's warning. So let's have a good time when we can. Try me, Braveheart, and you will find that a boy from the World-of-Things-as-They-Are can be a good pal to a boy in the Land-of-Long-Ago!"

"Hi-yi!" cried Braveheart, and from want of a cap to throw up in the air he tossed up a pine cone. "Now at last you speak words I do wish to hear. What say you to a visit to the bear's den? Snuffle and Sniffles promised to lead me to where a tree hides honey."

DINNER STORIES

"Say," growled the customer, "what do you think you are, a telephone operator?"

"Vat's de matter?" asked the grocer.

"I asked for a dozen eggs and you give me 11, that's what", angrily shouted the customer.

A North Carolina cop stopped a northern motorist bound for Florida after a speeding chase. "What's your name?"

"Brown Smith."

"Don't try that on me. Give me your correct name and address."

"Well, if you must have it, it's George Washington, Mount Vernon."

"Thank you for the information."

"Don't mention it. Only too glad to give it to you."

CITY INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE OPENS SEASON TONIGHT

Two Fast Games Are Scheduled

Rick-Overlands To Meet P. & O. Electrics, P. & L. E. And Tin Mill Carded

FIRST GAME AT EIGHT O'CLOCK

The City Industrial Floor League will open its 1926-27 season tonight at the Y. M. C. A. Two fast games are billed for the lid-lifting exercises. The first contest will start at eight o'clock.

All arrangements for the league playing have been completed by Walter E. Kirker, physical director and secretary of the league, and the success of the enterprise lies within the co-operation of each team concerned in the loop.

The league is composed of six teams. The teams are rather evenly divided as to material and prospects are bright for a mighty fast league. There will be plenty of rivalry between the teams and competition will be keen.

Manager Arnold "Fiz" Frazier will send his Tin Mill outfit into action tonight against the P. & L. E. quintet, managed by John Nicholson. It is reported that the Tin Mill men have a fast team, including such well-known stars as Frazier, Snider, Volesko and others, while the P. & L. E. team is made up of former floor luminaries, with Davey Hoskins leading the list.

The Rick-Overland team, otherwise known as the Lincoln Five, will tangle with the Electrics in what should prove a hardfought game. Both teams are on edge for the opening game.

Interest in the Industrial loop is at fever heat and a banner crowd is looked for when the teams take the hardwood court tonight. Games will be played on Monday and Saturday.

Following are the probable lineups of the four teams in the opening games tonight:

P. & L. E.	Tin Mill
Lenkinger	F. Frazier
Stone	F. Smith
Richards	C. Snider
D. Hoskins	G. Volesko
Lewis	G. A. Hoskins

P. & O.	Rick-Overland

BILL McKechnie, former manager of the Pititsburgh Pirates, will mingle with magnates when the National League's annual meeting opens at New York Tuesday. Here's All American Football Team Picked By Over Million Fans

By NORMAN E. BROWN.
Central Press Sporting Editor.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 13.—The American football fan as a unit has named his first own all-American football eleven.

That is why it is officially called REAL ALL-AMERICAN.

Acting through the Central Press association where the election headquarters was established under the personal supervision of Norman E. Brown, celebrated sports authority, over 400 newspaper clients of that association and other invited papers took part in a first real effort to obtain direct from the fans of the country their own personal opinion regarding their own relative merits of he various football stars of the country. A conservative estimate of the fans interested in the poll based on the average circulation of these papers and the number of ballots actually received would be over a million.

The value of such a poll is seen when one contemplates the voicing of the sentiment of this number of fans as against the personal opinions of a few men in selecting similar teams up to this season.

The newspapers in the poll conducted their own local elections scoring two points in each man's favor for each time his name was mentioned for the first team on one of the printed ballots and one point when he was placed on the second team. The final selection in each city consisted of the man scoring the highest number of points for his given position. The same point plan was adhered to in the final compilation.

Here are the 11 men chosen by the fans of the United States as the greatest men in the game at their positions:

Ends—Oosterbaan of Michigan, Broda of Brown.

Tackles—Wickhorst of the Navy, Sprague of the Army.

Guards — Connaughton of Georgetown, Hess of Ohio State.

Center—Boeringer of Notre Dame.

Quarter Back—Friedman of Michigan.

Half Backs—Baker of Northwestern, Kaer of Southern California.

Full backs—Josting of Minnesota.

The 11 men honored as being the next best in the country are:

Ends—Hanson of Syracuse and Winslett of Alabama.

Tackles—Nelson of Iowa and Yoder of Carnegie Tech.

Guards—Shively of Illinois and Swan of Stanford.

Center—Butler of Pennsylvania.

Quarterback—Kelly of Montana.

Halfbacks—Wilson of Army, and Flannagan of Notre Dame.

Fullback—Karow of Ohio State.

Of the 11 men singled out for the distinction of being the men so honored by the fans of the country six may well be said to be unanimous choices. These six are Oosterbaan, Wickhorst, Hess Boeringer, Friedman and Joesting. The fans paid Oosterban the compliment of placing him on the first team in every local poll taken with the exception of six in the entire country.

On only four ballots was Wickhorst given second preference to any other tackle.

Hess Guard with Ohio State received but four second team points. Every city in the entire middle west and all but these four in other sections of the country ranged him as the best of the guards.

The overwhelming vote in favor of Boeringer of Notre Dame for center was surprising to many sporting editors who conducted the polls in their cities especially in the east where Butler of Pennsylvania had received much credit and in the cities of the Big Ten Conference in the middle west where Reitsch of Illinois had drawn the major portion of attention.

Oddly enough the vote of the fans of one Ohio city, Benny Friedman's native state, kept him from having the distinction of receiving the first team vote in every city of the country interested in the poll.

That Baker's fame as an all around star while leading Northwestern to a tie with Michigan for the Big Ten championship was nationally appreciated, is shown by the fact that he led all the half back candidates being challenged only by Morton Kaer of Southern California and Harry Wilson of the Army.

From the moment the first returns began to come in there was no question as to the popularity of Herbert Joesting, human dreadnaught of the Minnesota team and the outstanding fullback of the country.

The same city which turned "Thumbs down" on Friedman prevented Joesting from monopolizing the first team honors. This city's vote went to Amos of W. and J.

Of the men honored on the second team those mentioned for tackle and guard positions had the most hectic races. The eastern fans who recognized the worth of Oosterbaan, Hess, Boeringer and other western stars insisted that Carey of Cornell be given consideration for one of the guard positions. Meanwhile western fans divided their feelings between Shively of Illinois and Connaughton of Georgetown.

The total number of men mentioned for places on the real all American football eleven was 122. This indicates clearly that the fans were not led by glowing accounts of a few of the stars but were fully acquainted with the work of a dozen or two men for every position. For instance Oosterbaan, Broda, Hanson and one or two others drew the major portion of attention among the ends the ballots showed that close to a dozen others had been given due consideration by voters. The same held true of all the other positions.

In only one of over 200 ballats received was it apparent that the fans of a city had been influenced by personal pride in a local boy in casting their votes and in this case they were not entirely without cause for he had been frequently mentioned for all eastern honors at least by various critics who had seen him in action.

The most interesting feature of the entire poll is the fact that there lie on my desk today some 200 letters from fans forwarded to me by the papers in their cities expressing their appreciation of the fact that they were invited to side in as experts and not relegated longer to the role of paid spectators in what has now become the public's game.

Thompson Deal Not Sanctioned

Cumberland Nips Deal To Sell Gus To Memphis Team

CUMBERLAND, Md., Dec. 13. — The management of the Mid-City Athletic Association, which controls the Cumberland team in the Middle Atlantic League, nipped in the bud what it discovered a deal to sell Catcher Gus Thompson to the Memphis team of the Southern Association. It is claimed Manager Pat Ragan of the locals attempted to put through the deal, naming $1,200 as the price. The first the local moguls knew of it was when a report was received from Memphis that Thompson had been purchased.

President James F. Ford of the Cumberland team stated that on November 27 he received a wire from Ragan, who is spending the winter in Philadelphia, to the effect that he could get $1,000 for Thompson. Secretary Irving Millenson replied that $2,000 was the price. A week later President Ford received a wire from Memphis that the deal for Thompson for $1,200 was satisfactory as per Ragan's letter. The local officials were at loss to know where Ragan got the authority to sell players without the sanction of the Mid-City Association, and Memphis was advised that the price was $2,000. Nothing further was heard of the matter until word came a week later from a Memphis paper that Memphis had purchased Thompson.

Light Heavyweight Title Will Fall On Jack Delaney

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'l News Service

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Jack Delaney will resign as light heavyweight champion of the world within two months in order to fight, without official handicaps, as a legitimate contender for the heavyweight title.

This was the good word in circulation today and boxing men of national repute vouched for its accuracy. They declared that Delaney's action will be forced upon him in order to evade the curse of one of those New York state athletic commission edicts which would send him into the ring against Gene Tunney weighing not more than 175 pounds, under pain of disqualification. The commission already has established this precedent by ordaining that no champion may fight out of his class in this state except at the weight at which his title was won.

With the heavyweight sweepstakes promising a golden harvest for all concerned, the light heavyweight title would be worth no such sacrifice to Delaney.

The title itself, outside of this fact, would prove little encumbrance, it was said, since Delaney was smart enough to laugh off a title defense for six months, as a result of his workout with Jamaica Kid at Waterbury, Conn., last week.

Both of the principals made 175 pounds for the match; therefore, it must go down in the book as a title bout, leaving Delaney to his own devices for the next six months. In brief, he no longer can be confronted by some sap who wishes to battle him for the light heavyweight title at a time when the young man will be absorbed with the heavyweight problems.

Could Avoid Edict.

However, even this strategy will not be sufficiently effective to make the light heavyweight title worth its burden, they say. The answer is found in the action taken some time ago by the New York commission in ordering Paul Berlenbach, then champion, to weigh 175 pounds or abandon his idea of fighting Johnny Risko, a heavyweight. The board was so pleased with the idea that they made it apply to champions in all classes. It still applies—for the reason that the commission's last guess is always its best.

Of course, Delaney could avoid the edict by fighting his heavyweights in New Jersey. This would be an easy way out, if it wasn't for the fact that Rickard and Fugazy, the leading promoters, have leases on the two ball parks in New York and I presume they mean to use them. Rickard has a Jersey site but Delaney isn't his man, anyhow, and he says he won't be.

Fugazy will bring Delaney and Jack Sharkey together before February 1 or break a bicep in the attempt. By that time Delaney, who is alleged to have weighed less than 173 pounds the other night, may be well above the 175-pound class at his natural weight. He won't want to meet Sharkey at any other; therefore, they say, the light heavyweight title must be cast off, at least for the time being.

The Musketeers, Boys' league champions of 1925-26, have reorganized for the coming floor campaign, and expect to stage a hard fight for honors again this year.

Titular Claims Are Not Desired

They Only Tend To Monopolize Space And Produce Further Arguments

Croton A. C. football team wishes to state, they say in a letter to The News, that they are entitled to the independent football title of New Castle.

Their reply follows a letter from the South Side Bulldogs, published in The News, in which the south siders laid claim to the independent championship.

According to the Croton letter, the championship game was stopped with but a few seconds left to play on account of the game being played on Sunday. Croton again challenges the South Side.

The sporting editor of The News desires to offer the following comment: He does not wish letters from any team claiming a championship until it has been definitely established.

The columns of a newspaper are for publication of reports and not for claims. No article which will tend to produce a barrage of counter-claims will be printed.

Reports and results are invited. The News is willing to devote space for sport news but not "claims". Further letters concerning the independent championship are not desired, as both sides have now been published.

Regals To Play Trojans Tuesday

Regal five will meet the Trojans at the Rose avenue gym, at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday. Sack, Levin, Winick, Ginsberg, Solomon, H. Levine Maruice, A. Cohen, C. Kahn, Kline and Newmark should report. The Regals want games. Managers should call 3823-J between 7 and 8 p. m. and ask for Maurice.

More Value than the Price Suggests

In the year just drawing to a close the price of Dodge Brothers Motor Cars was materially lowered.

Yet during this period more important improvements were incorporated than in any year in Dodge Brothers history. Advances were made in engineering and body designs. The cars possess a greater degree of smoothness, silence and ease. They are more comfortable, more beautiful.

Current prices — made possible, of course, by constantly mounting sales — are therefore not an obvious measure of value. Prices, in fact, have never told the full story of Dodge Brothers dependability and basic worth.

But now, more than ever before, there is far more value than the price suggests.

Arrest 130 For Sunday Violation Of Old Blue Laws

Irvington, N. J., Officers Start Enforcement Of Old Sunday Regulations

(International News Service)

IRVINGTON, N. J., Dec. 13.—Irvington, with its calendar back to normal today, rode automobile, motor bus and trolley car to court to watch the wheels of justice operate on 130 persons arrested yesterday for violation of a puritan "blue law" more than 150 years old which has never been repealed.

The Irvington calendar was switched back to pre-Revolutionary times for several hours on Sunday with the rigid enforcement of the famous New Jersey Sunday "blue laws" of 1754 which prohibit any person from following a "worldly occupation" on the Sabbath. Against the 130 arrested the charges ranged from driving a trolley car, keeping open a delicatessen or a drug store, to snapping a photograph.

All those arrested were released in two dollars bond for appearance today.

The sudden return to puritanism was the result of a demand made by theater owners, whose theaters two weeks ago were ordered closed on Sunday in compliance with the "blue laws" that the entire code of the ancient laws be rigidly enforced.

The police swung into action as soon as delicatessen shops, cigar and drug stores opened. They invaded all shops found open and took the proprietors to the police station, where bail of $2 was accepted. Two trolley car operators, two motor bus operators and two newspaper reporters were arrested. A man was arrested for playing a violin and all the men found in charge of gasoline filling stations were arrested.

Captain Woodside Will Attend Banquet

Event Next Thursday Will Be Outstanding Affair Of The Winter Season

Captain Robert G. Woodside, "Fighting Bob" as he is known to his intimate friends, past commander-in-chief of Veterans of Foreign Wars, ex-sheriff of Allegheny county and according to reports from the front lines of politics, a promising candidate for a position in Governor-elect Fisher's cabinet, will attend the V. F. W. booster banquet at the Fountain Inn Thursday evening of this week.

Woodside is one of the outstanding figures in Pennsylvania and has been recognized by President Coolidge who recently appointed him as a member of the battle monuments commission in France. In addition to his achievements in the business and political world, he is a veteran of the Spanish-American war and the World war, having distinguished himself in both conflicts as a soldier and an officer.

Recognized as a national figure in affairs of veterans, he has been a frequent witness before the veterans commission in both houses of congress, when measures of importance were confronting them, and thru his efforts and assistance the acts of congress creating the U. S. veterans bureau, which is so effectively caring for the disabled, were passed.

With a natural gift of eloquence, combined with years of practice as an attorney and public life, and experience of his active civil and military career, he holds the attention of anyone, as standing in gigantic in stature he delivers a compelling and instructive address, for as his many friends declare, "Bob knows his stuff".

Due to the limited number of plates available for the banquet, the committee in charge, of which Earl R. Toler is chairman, announced today that an informal reception would be held in the lobby of the Fountain Inn between 5:45 and 6:30 p. m., preceding the banquet, in order that the large number of friends of Congressman Swick, Capt. Woodside and Past Commander-in-Chief Stover might have an opportunity to greet them during their visit to New Castle.

The banquet itself promises to be something out of the ordinary, cuisine, linen and silver, combined with Fountain Inn service, will be in striking contrast to that offered by army mess halls, its menu of appetizing viands will be pleasing to the most particular, and is certain to leave those who partake of it in the right frame of mind to enjoy the short peppy after-dinner speeches to follow.

It is not so very long ago that copper was used in Sweden as the chief medium of exchange, and at times merchants had to take wheelbarrows with them when they went to receive payment of considerable sums.

N.Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—There was a burst of buying of the motor, utility, industrial and specialty stocks in early trading today and prices of practically all of the active groups of stocks were higher.

Chrysler Motor, Federal Light and Traction, Pere Marquette Railroad Common, Universal Pipe and other well known performers in last week's spectacular upturn of prices, were swept along from 1 to 3 points in a strenuous buying movement. Chrysler's new move carried the stock up to 41, while Pere Marquette set a new top record at 122 and Federal Light at 46¾.

A severe slashin prices of motor cars by Hudson at Detroit was without much effect on the market for motor stocks, Hudson advancing with the rest to 48¾, against Saturday's close at 47½.

The big factor behind the buoyant market today was the easier tone and outlook in the money market. The call loan renewal rate was 4½ per cent, but speculative money was available at a fractionally lower rate in the outside market. Business reports were unchanged.

The tone of the railroad share market was firmer, but trading in that section of the market was comparatively light. Nickel Plate, old stock, was in demand above 193 and Atchison sold about a point higher. Phillips Petroleum and Marland led a moderate rally in the oils, but lower prices were quoted for the bulk of independent shares.

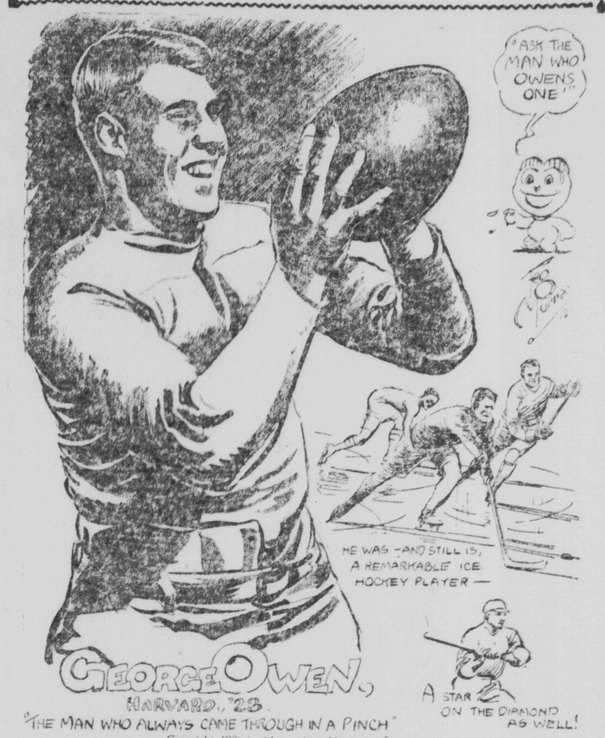
He Won Nine H's — By Feg Murray



Here is probably the greatest athlete who ever went to Harvard, George Owen, the lad who played football, not because he got any pleasure out of it, but because he thought it was his duty, has passed from the gridiron no doubt forever; and George Owen, the versatile baseball star, has laid aside his bat and glove; but George Owen, the flash of the ice, is still to be seen in action, and so there is still some joy left in living.

For this Owen person was such a treat to watch on the gridiron, diamond and rink that it seems a shame that he ever had to do anything else but play football, baseball and hockey. George, perhaps, got no pleasure out of his football—his looks certainly belie that fact in the drawing—but he gave pleasure to countless thousands who enjoy seeing a natural-born athlete, and a true amateur, performing with all the perfect coordination and zest of a strong and agile body.

Listen to just a few of the feats that George Owen performed while at Harvard—but first let me amend my statement about his "giving pleasure to countless thousands", for he gave no pleasure at all to Yale and Princeton. His freshman year was only a tip-off of what was to come, but even then his achievements in his three favorite sports were truly remarkable.

In hockey, his playing was so sensational that he was elected captain of the team twice, and he played the entire time of all of Harvard's games during three years, his speed and uncanny stick work almost equaling that of the late Hobey Baker.

In baseball, after saving the Princeton series with a marvelous catch in his sophomore year, and being elected baseball captain at the end of his junior year, he made one of the most phenomenal "last appearances" of any famous college athlete in the Yale game in 1923. After striking out in the eighth inning, he came to bat in the last of the ninth with two out, the bases full, and Harvard needing three runs to win, and won the series with a long hit.

George's chief football fame was founded on his 60-yard run through the entire Yale team in 1922, which led to his making the winning touchdown a minute later; but his all-around play, both on attack and on defense in his sophomore and junior years, also stamped him with the mark of truly great.

And he's only 25 years old now!

Feg Murray Says—

According to Jack Dempsey, there's nothing synthetic about Gin Tunney.

Thirteen Gallons Of Liquor Found By Police Officers

James Costal, said by the police to reside in the Dufford block on South street, was arrested Saturday night by Officers Letera and Criswell, when they found 13 gallons of liquor in his garage on Diamond way. He was taken before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton this morning where a charge of violating the Snyder act was made against him by Chief of Police Henry Dysart.

On the reading of the charge Costal pleaded guilty to possessing liquor and was held for court. In default of bail he was placed in the county jail pending the disposition of his case.

While the officers were on South Jefferson street they saw actions on the part of Costal that led them to believe that he might be engaged in the liquor business. He went to the Dufford block and the officers followed and asked him his name which he gave as Thomas and stated that he lived on the South Side.

The officers insisted in looking over his garage and he finaly very reluctantly agreed. They found 13 gallons of moonshine in jugs which it was found had just been filled from five gallon cans hidden in the haymow of the place.

Eskimo Mother Tells Local Woman Of Work In Alaska

Mrs. Shields Hears Of Methodist Mission Work In Alaska At First Hand

Mrs. Margaret Shields of East Wallace avenue reports a very interesting conversation with Mrs. Ahkla, the little Eskimo mother who was in this city Friday for the Christmas Pageant, relative to the work which the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church is doing in Alaska.

Mr. Ahkla is well acquainted with Mr. Baldwin, the superintendent of the Maynard Columbia hospital located at Nome, Alaska, which is supported by the Woman's Home Missionary Society. She was able to tell Mrs. Shields of the splendid work that this institution is accomplishing at this place. Some time ago the people of that community gave the Society a tract of land in which there were eighty acres if they would agree to erect a hospital. The Junior department of the Woman's Society raised enough funds to purchase a boat called, "The Jewel Guard Boat," which is used for the benefit of the hospital.

Mrs. Ahkla also told of the orphanage that the Society is now building at Seward, Alaska to which the Junior Department of the Society have given $60,000 in the last two years. Two dormitories have been built, one for boys and one for girls.

Mrs. Ahkla has often seen Balto, the hero dog who won nation wide reputation by his wonderful feat of leading the dog train through the deep snows while taking anti-toxin during the epidemic of diphtheria at Nome two years ago.

Mrs. Shields is superintendent of the Junior work of the Methodist church of New Castle district of the Erie conference and is much interested in the great work that is being done in the far northwest.

Hubbard Counsel Files Motion For Another Trial

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—John W. Hubbard, millionaire Pittsburgh clubman, through his attorneys today filed a motion for a new trial of the $500,000 breach of promise suit brought by Anne Caldwell, New York actress, who was awarded $50,000 damages by a jury in federal court here last week.

Nine reasons were cited in the motion for new trial, which was admitted by Federal Judge W. H. S. Thomson. Judge Thomson gave Hubbard's counsel five days in which to file additional depositions. No date was set for hearing argument on the motion.

There isn't much wrong in a land where 95 per cent of present worry concerns the selection of Christmas gifts.

Council Holds Brief Session

Sets Date For Hearing Objections Of Second Ward's New Assessments

Only a few minutes were required today by councilmen to transact the business which came before them in formal session. Bills were ordered paid and the morning of December 24 designated as the time to hear objections on new assessments in the Second ward.

Council concurred in the recommendation of Fuller & McClintock that gas apparatus be purchased for the sewage disposal plant. The communication said gas utilization is a distinct feature of the new plant and when the plant operates normally next summer, the quality and quantity of gas may be used for heating purposes.
